General Information on Nomination Selection

Each member of Congress may have five cadets at each of the four service academies at any one time. The number of vacancies available each year is then determined by the number of cadets who either graduate or leave the academies each year.

Congresswoman Hartzler's nominees will be selected using the "Principal with Ranked Alternates" selection process, which involves the Congresswoman submitting the designation of a principal nominee along with nine ranked nominees. If the principal is fully qualified (academics, medical, and physical aptitude), he or she will be appointed and will fill the vacancy. If the principal does not qualify, then the first alternate is considered for the appointment and so on. In effect, the highest designated nominee who is fully qualified for entrance is appointed to fill the vacancy.

Applicants who submit a completed application file will be contacted to schedule an interview with Congresswoman Hartzler's Academy Nominations Panel. These interviews will take place sometime in late October through early December. Once all applicants have been interviewed, the panel will make their recommendations for nominations to the Congresswoman. All applicants will be notified when nominations have been submitted. The deadline for Congresswoman Hartzler to submit nominations to the academies is January 31st; however, our office makes every effort to submit nominations by the end of December.

Due to the large number of qualified applicants, you are encouraged to apply to multiple nomination sources. You should apply to both U.S. Senators for Missouri. You may also apply to the Office of the Vice President of the United States, who can nominate applicants from the country at large.
